HEALTHCARE LEADERS SHARE HOW TO CREATE SUSTAINABLE ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE

APPLETON, WISC. – February 20, 2019 - More than 700 healthcare leaders from across the US and around the world will gather in Washington, DC for the tenth annual Lean Healthcare Transformation Summit, presented by Catalysis June 13-14, 2019, to learn and share the latest insights and strategies to transform healthcare organizations, create value, and enhance quality and patient care.

“Change is bearing down fast on healthcare in the US, it will be as disruptive as it is inevitable because we can no longer afford to pay huge bills for substandard care,” John Toussaint, MD, Founder and Chairman of the Board of Catalysis.

“This is by far one of my favorite conferences in the healthcare industry! Always great presentations and learning opportunities, in addition to the collegial nature of the networking sessions,” said a past Summit attendee.

This two-day conference, which offers continuing education credits, will feature keynotes by thought leaders, interactive breakout sessions, and pre-Summit workshops.

Keynote Speakers – Kim Barnas, CEO of Catalysis; Gladys Bogoshi, Chief Executive Officer of Charlotte Maxeke Johannesburg Academic Hospital; Patrick Conway, MD, President and CEO of Blue Cross Blue Shield – North Carolina; Eric Dickson, MD, CEO of UMass Memorial Healthcare; Grey Dube, Chief Executive Officer of Leratong Hospital; and John Toussaint, MD Founder and Chairman of the Board of Catalysis.

Learning Sessions – Cover relevant topics for lean leaders and senior executives with any level of lean experience in a small, interactive setting. Session speakers include: Kate Goodrich, MD Director of CSSQ and CMS Chief Medical Officer, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid and Stephen Shortell, PhD, of UC-Berkeley, Center for Lean Engagement and Research (CLEAR) and other industry leaders

Pre-Summit Workshops – 14 sessions, held on June 11-12, to help build skills essential to organizational transformation. Led by faculty with first-hand experience in the industry.
