

Lean Healthcare Transformation Summit 2022 CE Info Sheet

This educational activity is jointly provided by AXIS Medical Education and Catalysis

Target audience: All clinical and professional staff, including physicians, nurses, administrators, senior leaders, managers, and any team or individual with an interest in organizational change.

Conference Overview:

Systemic thinking has allowed the healthcare community to combat the challenges of the last few years which is why the theme for this year's Summit is Think Systemically, Act with Purpose.

Strategic thinking and practice enable healthcare organizations to make purposeful decisions. This approach is more important than ever as we look ahead to the future and focus on what matters most – patients, staff, and communities. Join fellow lean healthcare practitioners to learn, share, connect, and reflect as we create change together.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be better able to:

- Recommend strategies to better serve patients and staff through interconnected systems that support continuous improvement efforts
- Summarize how systemic thinking enables better decision making and process improvements
- Identify leadership behaviors needed to support a culture of improvement
- Explain the elements of a problem-solving process
- Evaluate the impact of lean management systems in healthcare on quality metrics
- Discuss how elements of a lean management system can be applied to their professional role(s)
- Analyze strategies to engage team members in process improvement work
- Discuss coaching techniques to foster leadership behaviors and problem solving
- Explain how strategy deployment connects to the management system to align daily improvement work throughout the organization
